Lee Shippey Writes On Big Money

The Bible says the laborer is worthy of his hire, and that should apply to his employer, too.

Every worker who does a good and honest job deserves fair pay, and the employer can't pay it unless his firm is making fair profit.

But it seems to me both are too much in the habit of working American prosperity to the limit, and all of us must either get reasonable or get hurt.

We can't help pricing ourselves out of many markets if labor continually demands more pay — and business continually demands more pay — direct or indirect — for all its higher executives.

Such a situation enables each side to put all the blame on the other, but both are to blame.

FOR EXAMPLE, a survey published last week shows the heads of automobile companies are highest paid, their salaries averaging $431,000 a year — besides which, no doubt, all of them get dividends.

So naturally when such executives get together at the club they agree all the blame for high prices should rest on Walter Reuther.

No doubt Reuther's salary as a union president is also far bigger than he needs and definitely makes a magnate out of him, but it only reflects the tendency which is all-American, to judge men and everything by their price tags.

YOUNG ROGER MARIS gloried in the honor of becoming the homerun king, but the honor was not half enough. It enabled him to demand a salary of $72,000 for the coming season.

I think that when I was a boy a world champ pugilist was happy to fight for honor, plus 60 per cent of the purse. Today Floyd Patterson can make a challenger sign up for only 12 1/2 per cent, win or lose, of many times as much money as Sullivan, Corbett or Fitzsimmons ever dreamed of.

And probably his managers will still come out of it far richer than Patterson will.

OTHER DAY I wrote that dreams of big money are taking all the sport out of sport. The high school boy

Men Work Hours

Youth, 20, Victim Of Icy Fall

The SIERRA MADRE NEWS fund for the famed SIERRA MADRE RESCUE TEAM which started out to be $1,500, yesterday climbed to $2,404.

By Bill Wark

A 20-year-old Glendale youth, Lawrence Tuckman, of 442 Riverdale Dr. was killed in a tragic mountain accident, on the perilous eastern slope of Mt. Wilson, Sunday afternoon. He fell more than 1,000 feet.

Tuckman, sophomore at Valley State College, with his sister, Joyce, 22, and her friend Carol Fuller, 24, also of Glendale had left Chantry Flats in the morning to hike the old hard trail through Sturtevant Camp to Mt. Wilson.

Upon reaching the higher elevations they encountered snow and ice which made the going extremely hazardous.

AT A HIGH POINT overlooking the headwaters of the Big Santa Anita, Tuckman told the girls to wait as he made a trail across the icy canyon wall. He slipped and fell down the mountain-side hitting a tree.

The girls cried out to him and he said he was alright and started to climb back up but slipped again on the icy, snow-covered slope and plunged on down the cliff-side.

Unable to see him or hear no answer to their cries the horrified girls ran down the mountain seeking help. They reached Sturtevant Camp in a state of shock and exhaustion but there was no one there to help them, and they continued running down the canyon to the Don Ellis cabin.

ELLIS TOOK them in and he ran all the way to Fern Lodge to call Ranger Ralph Shangraw who summoned the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team. It was 5 p.m. Members of the Rescue Team split into two groups. One started down from the top of Mt. Wilson and one started up the canyon in an effort to find the point of the boy's fall.

Altadena Mountaineers and members of the Montrose group also came in to assist. The teams were hampered by strong winds, icy conditions and darkness. Los Angeles County sheriffs' cars were placed in strategic locations to aid in communications. The temperature was 12 above zero.

UPON REACHING the site Team members lowered Donald Colbert and John Clarke over the edge. They

Phone Company Will Spend Large Sum In Sierra Madre

Announcement is made by the California Water & Telephone Company that it plans to spend more than $925,000 during 1962 for additional phone facilities in the Sierra Madre-Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte area.

Dale Eckrote, district manager, says this amount is approximately 10 per cent of $10 million budgeted by his company for overall construction this year.

Work to be done includes more than $200,000 for increasing the capacities of the Sierra Madre and Monrovia general offices.

ALMOST $70,000 will be spent to meet specialized communications equipment requirements for individual customers. Balance will be

Nationwide Check Passers Using Women, Operate In S. M.

4 Stores Victimized; FBI Works On Case

A nationwide hit-run, check passing conspiracy, expertly planned with a professional touch, and using women to operate simultaneously in a city, and in addition, an individual check passer, victimizing leading Sierra Madre merchants, posed a problem this week for Police Chief Gordon G. McMillan and his department, as well as police in Monrovia, Arcadia, Downey and other nearby cities.

The professional check passers, operating from coast to coast, swept down on Sierra Madre last Saturday afternoon, and its women agents, operating quickly, passed checks, each good for $80.66 at the Roberts Market, Sierra Madre Hardware, Happy's Liquor Store and Club 60.

The individual check passer, not yet taken into custody, but under police surveillance, has passed at least six checks, each for $35, on Sierra Madre business establishments, including Don Jackson's and Ralph's Shoe Store.

Because the professional rings has operated interstate, FBI Special Agent Jenkins of the Los Angeles office, has been called into the case.

THESE OPERATORS, last November, burglarized the offices of the P. J. Fobert Manufacturing Company at 1720 Cloverfield Blvd., Santa Monica, making away with package after package of blank checks and also a good one by which they can counterfeit the signatures of Mr. Fobert and his partner, Lawrence Sanareth.

The modus operandi is for the women to drive up to a store in either an old green or a white Oldsmobile, make a small purchase, tender a check for $80.66.

The ruse has succeeded notably in Sierra Madre,

Downey where 12 instances are reported, Monrovia and in Arcadia a month ago. The women are described as not too comely and not well dressed.

THE INDIVIDUAL check passer whose arrest is expected momentarily unless the check are made good, is described as a Sierra Madre resident. His is an individual enterprise and not with the nationwide ring.

Just what all checks should be made out for $80.66 and $35 has not been determined by police.

Lone Burglar Strikes Again Near S. M. Police Station

The lone burglar who has proved a trial and tribulation for Sierra Madre, Arcadia and Monrovia police in recent weeks, struck again early last Thursday.

This time he succeeded in a repeat performance at the George Wetherbee Beverage Store, 58 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., and for good measure added the Buccaneer, next door, at 60 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., operated by Roger D. Miller, to his list of victims. The stores are directly across the street from Central Police Station.

A week before he had obtained five cases of wine at the Weatherbee establishment; this time he was satisfied with a fifth of Canadian whisky.

AT THE BUCCANEER, he elected to take cash. Spotting a jar near the cash register which yielded him nothing, he emptied the jar of $10 in quarters and dimes, and $13 in pennies.

Used in the juke box, these had been painted red to identify them as the owner's coins used in keeping the music going.

Entry was gained by jimmying a rear door with a crowbar. Previous entry was effected by cutting through a wire mesh, then prying off the hatch of a storeroom door.

A 'Shamrocks', of Firsts, Triplets at St. Teresita

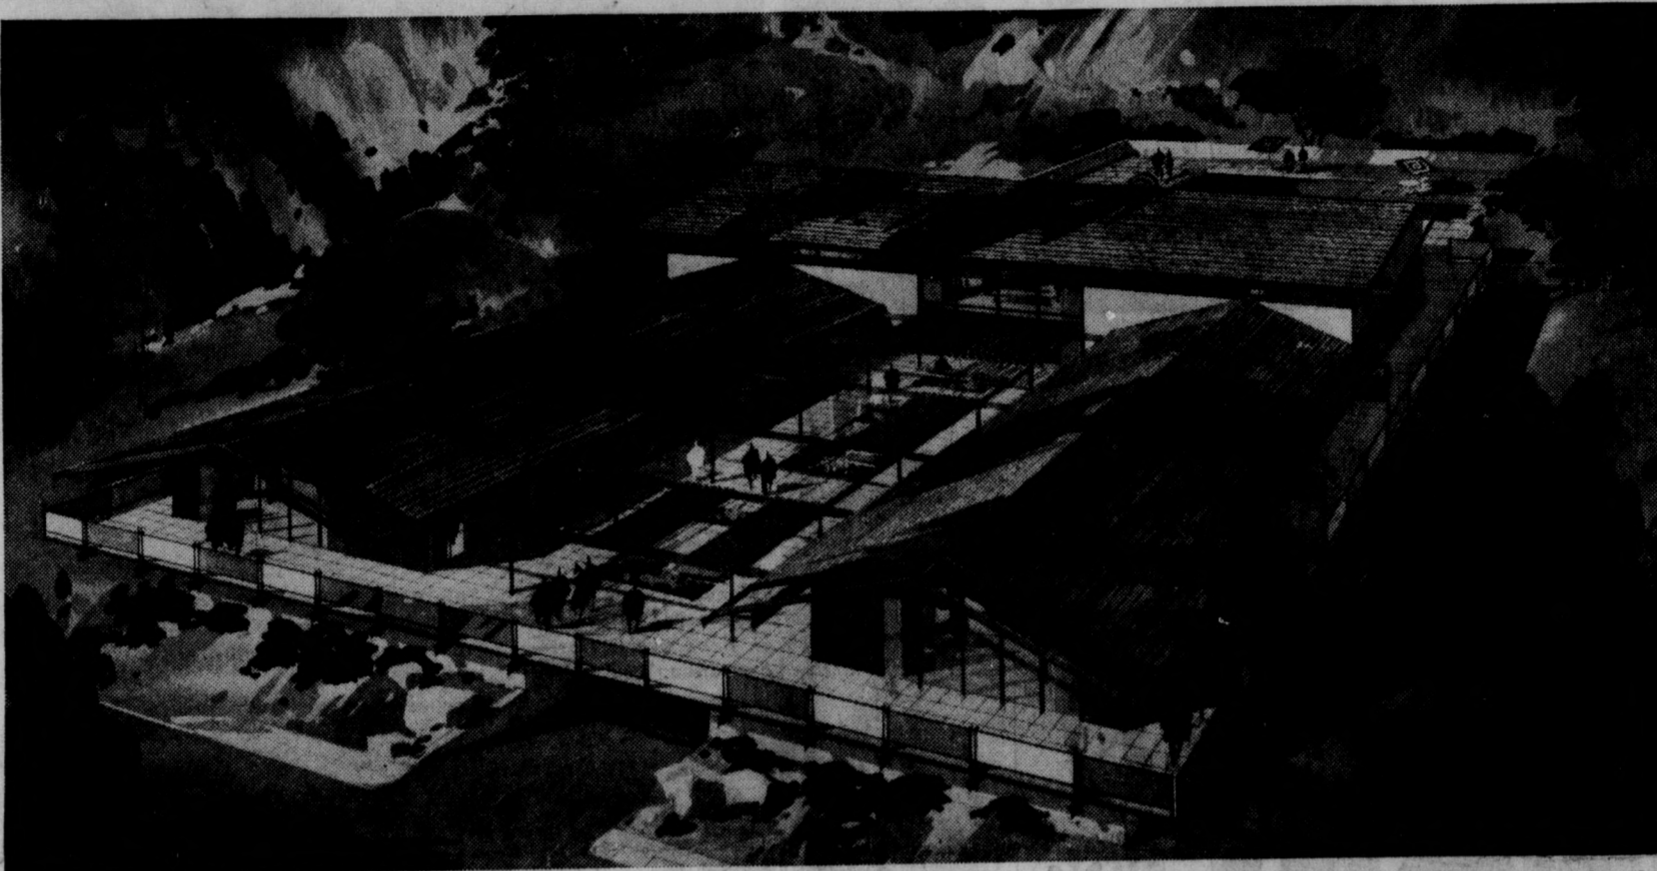

Santa Teresita Hospital at Duarte, has a "real live" shamrock for St. Patrick's Day in the persons of its very FIRST SET OF TRIPLETS! Janice A. Joann B. and Joyce C. baby daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Solberg Jr., of 1000 Foothill Blvd., LaVerne, "landed" in the "Heir Port" of the "Bethlehem" Maternity Section at 4:18, 4:21 and 4:29 p.m. respectively on last Thursday afternoon, March 8. Janice A. tipped the scales at 2 lbs., 14 1/2 oz.; Joann B. at 4 lbs., and Joyce C. at 3 lbs., 2 oz.

Making their unscheduled appearance during the seventh month of pregnancy, the triplets have made "three firsts" in history... they are the first set for the hospital since it opened its maternity section four years ago, the first for the attending physician and the first for the happy mother. IN HONOR of the event Mother Margarita Maria, administrator of Santa Teresita, has announced that one-third of the hospitalization will be a gift to the family. The bewildered father, Ludwig, Jr., is elated, but still puzzled about the whole affair, for mother Mariana had no idea that she was due to have more than one baby. When she was admitted to the hospital Thursday morning, and x-rays

ARCHITECTS' conception of first 12-unit apartment which former Councilman Henry B. Nuetzel of 700 Acacia Ave. proposes to erect on his 40-acre hillside tract north of Stonehouse Rd and east of Sierra Madre Canyon. Nuetzel, former World War filer and now doing global flights for an airplane concern engaged in supply transport for the military the world over, proposes several more of these deluxe apartment buildings, each of which would have swim pools and extensive landscaping.

Friends Art Exhibit Gets Large Crowd Nuetzel Apartment Plan Is Up Tonight

By Grant Raddon

In spite of inclement weather the seventh Annual Art Exhibit sponsored by the Friends of the Sierra Madre Library swung off to an auspicious start Friday night, March 9. Among some 300 first-nighters were a number of city fathers, including Mayor W. Webster Vannier, a representative group of the participating artists, and many public-spirited art lovers from Sierra Madre and neighboring communities.

The picturesque Lopez and Xanadu Galleries provided a charming setting for the fine collection of prints and drawings submitted by 81 outstanding artists of Southern California. Braziers of glowing charcoal, hot coffee, a hearty punch and warm response of those attending countered effectively whatever chill the night might

Before Planning Commission

Nuetzel Apartment Plan Is Up Tonight

Plans for an initial apartment house development of around $200,000, which eventually may amount to about $1 million, will be presented Thursday (tonight) to the City Planning Commission by former Councilman Henry Nuetzel of 700 Acacia.

Mr. Nuetzel, native Sierra Madrean, and former World War filer, now engaged in flights for a private company ferrying supplies for the government to overseas lands in both Pacific and Atlantic, will ask that the property be rezoned from R-1 to R-3 so that location and construction may be more advantageous for both city and adjoining properties.

R-1 CALLS for a minimum of 15,000 square feet to a lot; R-3 allows construction of multiple units, and with, as Mr. Nuetzel points out, a minimum of change which can lead to erosion and consequent flood damage.

In this he will point out to the commission that under R-3 zoning none of the trees on the site, except those on the ground necessary for the building, will be cut down, and that this will be true of the entire 50 acres which it is hoped ultimately to develop.

In this respect, some 400 trees are affected.

Policeman Baney Is Daddy Again

Police Officer Stanley Baney of the Sierra Madre Department, wears an A-1 broader-than-usual smile.

Reason: Scott Alan Baney, 6 pounds, 6 ounces, arrived in good shape on March 9 at Arcadia Methodist Hospital to gladden the Baney home at 1849 S. 6th Ave., Monrovia.

Mother Marie and Scott are home, doing nicely, and the first son, Gordon Vincent, now 2, smiles almost as broadly as his dad.

Michillinda Debris Peril To Children

The present erosion-flood situation at the head of Michillinda which has as its nub the proposed Murphy sub-division, despite the six debris dams constructed there the past week by the City of Sierra Madre (on Pasadena territory), presents a distinct danger to children.

The way it can peril lives of youngsters was reconstructed for City Council at its Tuesday night's meeting by Kelvin B. Kirsch of 421 N. Sunnyside in discussing the flood situation.

Kirsch, member of the North Sunnyside Home Owners Group, detailed how two older boys literally rescued a smaller boy from a dirt cave-in on the Murphy tract. He made a realistic point in saying that had not the older youths been present, the younger one would have been buried by a dirt and rock cave-in.

A HOPEFUL note concerning the Michillinda situation, though not that of

Teens Learn How Officers Manage City

By Kathy Brown

"I really learned a lot about how the city government is run," and "I had a ball" were typical reactions of the teenagers who took part in last Friday's Youth In Government Day in Sierra Madre.

Some of those participating took over as city officials for the day; others went into the professions, predominately law, medicine, teaching and engineering. Each teenager learned about the job of the person he visited, training required, equipment used, and any problems confronted.

Kay McIsaac, who spent her day in the Water Department, discovered how a city government is conducted and learned a little bit more how she could work to retain our freedoms and rights, and feels that there should be Youth Days throughout the country.

"POLICE CHIEF" Mary Maloney hoped to understand how the government operated from the viewpoint of the police chief. "Fire Chief" Carole Parker discovered ways fires are prevented, fought and reported. She also said that she didn't realize how much skill was needed to drive a fire truck, and was amazed at the number of buttons that had to be pushed.

Kathy Brown was a "reporter" on Youth Day for the SIERRA MADRE NEWS. She learned how the paper is set up and printed, then spent the morning interviewing participants in Youth Day, and the afternoon on a tour of the flood area with "Fire Chief" Parker and Fire Marshal Bert Embree. The "City Council" consisting of "Mayor" Jim Case, "City Administrator" Dafri Morgan, "Councilmen"

Friends of Library Book Sale on April 13, 14, 15

Friends of the Sierra Madre Library are sponsoring the annual Used Book Sale for children and adults to be held in the lower level of the Library on April 13, 14, and 15.

Announcements of the book sale were sent this week to all Sierra Madre service clubs and Sierra Madre Ministerial Association.

More than $2,200 was realized during the annual three-day book sale last year from approximately 4,000 volumes contributed. It is hoped Sierra Madreans will better these figures this year.

Books to be donated may be brought to the Library. At a later date boxes will be placed in stores for the convenience of depositing used books. Profits from this sale will be used to purchase new books for the library.

Sierra Madre Natators Are Tops at PCC

Two Sierra Madre swimmers have been making quite a splash at Pasadena City College this year. Paul Poduska of 257 Wilson St. and John Mosely of 91 E. Orange Grove have been giving outstanding performances. Swim Coach Tony Linehan reports. Poduska set a new PCC record in the 440-yard freestyle in a recent meet, with a new time of 5:08.4. This was two seconds off the old record. In addition, Poduska has consistently taken first places in dual meets. He swims the 100, 220 and 440-yard freestyles and the 200-yard butterfly. He also has swum on the medley and freestyle relays.

MOSELY, a letterman from the 1921 award winning Lancer tank team, is again swimming backstroke and sprint freestyle events. He has turned in good performances, despite coming out for the squad late, due to illness.

The Lancer tankers have started out the year with a real good dual meet record and have participated in the Southern California Junior College Relays at Cerritos pool.

Pasadena will host the WSC meet on April 10, 12 and 14.

Eight St. Patrick's Poster Contest Winners Marking Saturday's Party, Named

Winners of the poster contest, sponsored by Holy Name Society of St. Rita's Parish, Sierra Madre, have been announced by Mother Mary Hermana, O.S.F., and the faculty of St. Rita's school, North Baldwin Ave., Sierra Madre.

Posters publicize the annual St. Patrick's party held in the school auditorium, which, this year features a "Roaring 20's" theme.

The posters, all original work of the student, carried the information concerning Saturday night's event in many ways, from shamrocks and St. Patrick to the short-skirted figure doing the Charleston.

EACH POSTER presented the vital information by word or cartoon — a "roaring 20's" St. Patrick's party with music furnished by the Tin Lizzie Quintet beginning at 8:30 p.m. in the school hall; admission at $1.50 a person, with proceeds being used for the annual school picnic; refreshments catered by Little Joe's Restaurant of Los Angeles; entertainment featuring Irish selections by talented members of the parish.

Joseph MacSweeney, Holy Name Society president, says that the work of the students was so well done that judging was most difficult.

THE WINNERS, to whom the prizes have already been awarded, are Richard Loel, Frank Kromka, Donna Beardshear, James Comerford, Donna Hillman, Frank Fisher, Elizabeth Gordon and Mary Burke. Susan Ripple received honorary mention.

A few tickets are still available and may be obtained from the co-chairmen Donald O'Termath and Anthony Patrick DePasco, or any officer of the Holy Name Society. A capacity crowd is expected.

On Sunday afternoon from noon to 5 o'clock open house will be held at the new San Gabriel Valley Camp Fire headquarters at 391 South Madison Ave. in Pasadena. Everyone is invited to attend and see the lovely new home of Camp Fire Girls.

Many groups in the area are planning to go on to the headquarters after the church services.

Other activities for the week include Flag ceremonies conducted by Camp Fire Girls, special displays in Sierra Madre and Sierra Mesa Schools, and community service projects under the direction of Mrs. Robert A. Bettencourt.

Janet Haynes won first honors in the freshman division for a display, "Unusual Properties of Numbers," and Sharon Curry placed second with her project, "Siege of Eratosthenes."

Other prize entries included: Sophomore division Marcia Kelly "Cones"; Karen Longpre, "The Golden Section"; Kay McIsaac, "Geometry in Modern Art"; Patti Elfelt, "Paper Folding"; Jane Sigwell, "Circles"; and Sarah O'Gara, "Projective Geometry."

Freshman division—Lucy Marino, "Chance and Pascal's Triangle"; Patricia Van Ness, "Adding in the Binary System"; Karen Ott, "Base Five System, Addition and Subtraction"; Ruth Regas, "Pythagorean Theorem"; Barbara Kowalski, "Binary System"; and Ann Lorenzen, "Mathematical Peep Show." Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson of Monticello, Minn., have concluded a week's visit with Mrs. Anderson's sister, Mrs. Esther Eppard, of 225 N. Lima.

Other prize entries included: Sophomore division Marcia Kelly "Cones"; Karen Longpre, "The Golden Section"; Kay McIsaac, "Geometry in Modern Art"; Patti Elfelt, "Paper Folding"; Jane Sigwell, "Circles"; and Sarah O'Gara, "Projective Geometry."

Frankly, I'll take those decorative markers in any style, zebra, striped or polka-dot. What they represent is most comforting.

COUNTERFEITERS, oddly enough, might try to copy them. They think of just about everything related to money—but so do banks.

So, when it comes to protecting the honest depositor's money, the bankers are right in there, pitching. Any baseball player can tell you that a "change of pace" is a good way to confuse the opposition. (Catch on?)

In the California Apparel News, a favorite of Trudie's ever since her days in designing and dress manufacturing, Seymour Graff in his column, "Para-Graffs" (but good), writes about little shops such as ours.

HE LAUGHS at the idea that "the little fellow is finished." The notion that big stores, branch stores, discount stores were overpowering "the little shop" is proving to be a joke.

Seems that people just naturally like "the smaller store." When it comes to the personal touch the big operators still haven't found a way to beat it.

WE'RE GLAD there is room for everybody, including the "quiet type"—which reminds me that Trudie from Vienna, whose mother was Mollie Keanne of County Cork, joins me in my liking Irish music with special accent on the soft-pedal.

Hear it some day with two harps and seven violins and you'll know what I mean. You don't have to be loud, or even big, to be good.

143 Dolls Were Entered In Sierra Mesa School's First Doll Exhibition

By Katherine Hart
Playground leader—Sierra Mesa

On Friday, March 9, Sierra Mesa School held its first Doll Show in cooperation with the Pasadena Department of Recreation. According to Katherine Hart and Jon Marks, after school playground leaders at Sierra Mesa, the Doll Show was a complete success. A total of 143 dolls were entered in six categories.

Ribbons were given to the top three in each category. Tirra Schneider, Debbie Ferber and Chris Veblen placed one, two, three respectively in the "Most Beautiful Doll" category.

Noralee Bush won first place for the "Largest Doll." Julie MacKinzie and Nancy Garner took second and third place. The "Smallest Doll" was brought by Paula Howbert. Ann Briglio and Cathy Forest had the next two smallest dolls.

Jean Moyer, Paula Howbert, and Jessica Stowell won first, second and third, in the "Best Foreign Doll" category. First place in the most "Unusual or Comical" category was won by Debbie Ferber. Debra Wagner's doll took second place and Julia MacKinzie's doll took third place.

In the "Oldest Doll" category, and certainly one of the most interesting categories, Lyn Macaulay and a 4th grade girl identifying herself only as Ellen, took first and second place. Each of their dolls was more than 100 years old. Tina Moyer's 77-year-old doll won third place.

The Playground leaders would certainly like to thank the Sierra Mesa PTA for their cooperation in arranging for the judges. A special thanks should go to the custodial staff of Sierra Mesa for their help in setting up the facilities.

These girls are now eligible to enter their dolls in the All-City (Sierra Madre, Pasadena) Doll Show to be held at a later date.

Everyone concerned is anxiously awaiting next year's doll show.

Kiwanis Buy Many Books For Library

One of the generous donors of books to the Sierra Madre Public Library has been the Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club.

A sum of money for books has been given every month since the new Library Building was completed in 1935. This gift of money has been used to purchase many books, especially the special items which are more expensive than the usual type of children's books.

SOME of the fine reference volumes purchased with Kiwanis money are:

The Six Volume Golden Picture Atlas, Goode's World Atlas, Bancroft—Games, a comprehensive book on games for the home, school, field and playground; William Schele's large and well-illustrated books, "Prehistoric Man" and "The First Mammals."

Two of the circulating books are the special editions of Rachel Carson's "The Sea Around Us" and Thor Heyerdahl's "Kon-Tiki." Both are beautifully printed and illustrated.

Ranch Roundup

"A Night At The Palace Theater" was nothing compared to A NIGHT AT THE KENMONTHS, according to some 96 persons attending the Don Benito parent show cast party. The William Blakelys and Harlan Dunns were also hosts for this gay cast party at the Kenmonths, which lasted till the wee hours of morning.

Ron Toms and the Tom Cats provided dancing music until the "Twist" got underway, and then Ron, a reserved English gentleman, quickly proved to be quite a "Twister!"

Incidentally, Ron was responsible for bringing this dad's band together, and they're terrific. I understand there was one small party calamity, however. Don Kenmonth failed to note a guest had closed the sliding glass door, and he broke through it. Harlan Dunn rushed him out for emergency treatment, and after a few stitches they returned to find the party still going strong!

COMMENT or two about the show: John DuBois was an articulate narrator of a Japanese version of "Casey at the Bat," which brought down the house. The cast, portraying their parts in superb pantomime, included Bob (Casey), Stinger, Don Melvin, Vic (Umpire) Harris, Bob Victor and Barbara Campbell.

In another act, Shirley Heimbruch revealed a beautiful singing voice; despite the hilariously hammy distractions by the Beautiful Dreamers, (Gloria Murlson, in particular). Loved that crazy version of "Hiawatha" done by Peggy Wardlow, Eleanor Stiles, Florence Ross and Frank Crowhurst. And who could miss the Zeigfeld beauties, a la Don Benito—Rita Blau with her Palace Quips and lovely card girl, Barbara Teilmann.

MR. AND MRS. OSCAR KRAFT, (Val and Toni), are busy packing for their upcoming trip to the Orient! They'll stop briefly in Fairbanks, Alaska, as they fly the Great Circle route.

From there to Tokyo, Hong Kong, etc. They'll hit Honolulu on their return route in April. The three Kraft children will remain at home with their grandparents, senior Krafts.

STORK NEWS: from Western Springs, Ill. comes the glad news that Marion and Chuck Ferguson, (until recently of the Ranch), had a baby girl, Nancy Gail Ferguson born March 1. Marion was active in the Sierra Madre Hospital Auxiliary before moving East.

It was a girl too, for Glenda and George Follmer, on Cartwright. My apology for not reporting this news when it happened, in February! Also, last week's column item reporting 'girls' for the William Lawsons should not have been plural. It is plural however, where their boys are concerned—they have three, but just one new baby daughter!

MARION AND JIM GERMAIN were guests of honor him.

Something about the date of March 15 that makes a chill run down my spine. I guess it's because taxes were due for so long on that date. I don't know but what it is worse this way; it is just like a stay of execution. You get lulled into a false sense of security and surplus in the bank, and there bango, is it April 15 and the clock has stopped.

There are so many friendly little warnings in all of the newspapers; it even scares the honest citizens. For instance, beware if you don't report interest received on savings or investments. Now I think this is a good rule and I'd like to comply, but I just can't get the bank to give me any interest on my Christmas Club.

Now I can't report, and then where will I be? Well on to the next rule—!

MAY 19TH will be THE REPUBLICAN DAY, according to final plans made by the ways and means committee at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Mueller the other night. The East Pasadena-Sierra Madre Republican Women's Club is planning an evening party that will be the toast of the town. More news later to be released on this subject. Those helping with plans the other evening were Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Phelps, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Paschall Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Wenger, Dr. and Mrs. Lincoln Wilson and ourselves.

MRS. HARRY PECK of Sierra Madre Villa is having a wonderful time showing Southern California to her mother, Mrs. J. Ressler, who is visiting her from Oak Park, Mich. Ruth is, in turn, learning to know her new state a little better herself.

I CALLED Mrs. George Amthor of Barhite to find out a little about their trip to San Antonio, Tex. They drove down for a two-day stay to show her mother and at this location approximately 15 months before being promoted to the larger store in Hastings Ranch. He feels the store is for Sierra Madreans as well as Pasadena folks.

HE LIVES in Sunland with his wife, Hazel, and two daughters, Linda and Julie. And when time permits he likes to fish also, and enjoys bowling.

Occasionally Rick and his family have a holiday at their mountain cabin near Lake Arrowhead, one place where they can go and relax.

In his own words, "I was lax."

all and Ruth said that Mrs. Baker (Dood, to her friends), looked positively glamorous and beautiful. She asked to be remembered to all of her friends.

AFTER LEAVING Mexico City the party progressed on to the city of Merida where they stayed for two days. It is still primitive and charming as old Mexico used to be. Then on to the Yucatan country for a few days.

From there they went to the small island of Cozumel, which is about 120 miles from Cuba. It is absolutely charming with beautiful secluded coves full of magnificent tropical fish.

It is yet unspoiled by modern civilizations and remains an ideal retreat from the humdrum life.

I felt so relaxed after talking to her I darned near had to take a nap.

Betty Gruwell will again direct parents and teachers in their third annual talent display. Capacity crowds have seen the show for the last two years.

Mrs. Leroy Brittel is show chairman with Mrs. Richard Cannon in charge of musical numbers.

Opening on our space age show looks back on the beatniks and their coffee houses (1950), World War II in the South Pacific (1940), the depression and the big band years (1930), gangsters and the "Roaring 20's" (1920), the ragtime years (1910), to the gay 90's.

New Manse For Governor Will Be Tops

By Edwin Capes

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — When and if the new Governor's mansion as designed by Campbell & Wong, San Francisco architectural firm, is erected according to the design, it should be a credit to the state's Capitol City.

It should be, at $475,000, but when the footage of the proposed 18-room establishment is taken into consideration, this is not an extra high price compared to building costs as they are today.

Undoubtedly, there will be some criticism concerning the design, but before this becomes vociferous, critics need to recall the long and difficult struggle the Legislature has had in providing a modern mansion for the state's Chief Executive.

SEVERAL GOVERNORS in the past 30 years have opposed construction of a new mansion on political grounds. Some governors felt a half million dollars of state funds could be better spent than providing the head of state with a new and modern house. Others considered such a move would not sit well with the people.

Thus, when Legislatures voted funds for acquiring a site and building a new mansion, Governors frowned on the bills or vetoed them.

The proposed new mansion, however, has moved ahead in two administrations, one Democratic and the other Republican. Land for the mansion at 15th and N Sts. was acquired under a Republican administration, while the contest among architects for the design was submitted under the Democrats. So the new mansion at least can be called a bipartisan project.

DESIGN OF the proposed new structure is simplicity itself, and the house could be called a flat top modern were it not for a surrounding series of arches which give it a flavor of Old California's Mission structures.

It is so modern, in fact, it will contrast strangely with the crumbling old State Capitol Building, which was constructed earlier than the present mid-Victorian Governor's mansion at 15th and H Sts. The Capitol Building, like the Governor's mansion, has been built and rebuilt so many times that not much is left of the original structure, except the outside walls.

And to add to the modernity, the house was picked up quickly by neighbors and hurried to the hospital.

Atlas Again Pays Interest of 4 3/4

Atlas Federal Savings and Loan Association intends to continue paying savers 4 3/4 per cent earnings on savings. This will be for the second quarter of 1962 (April 1 through June 30), according to an announcement by Roger A. Gurley, executive vice president.

Actually, Atlas Federal savers have been benefiting from this rate since Jan. 1, 1962, because of the current rate of 4 1/2 per cent plus an additional 1/4 per cent announced for the first quarter of 1962.

Arboretum Film Tour For Zontans

Zonta Club of Santa Anita, which includes Sierra Madre, was privileged to have Meade O. Boyle to take them on a film tour of the Arboretum at this month's meeting.

Miss Pauline Handy told "What's a Zonta Membership?" to members and guests. Guests included Jackie Christensen, Myra Grenier, Betty Heyne, Jean Katheren Wheeler and Harriet S. Zimmey. Highlight was the presentation of a Zonta emblem plaque to the president, Shirley Burt by Miss Handy. Floral decorations were provided by Emily Embree, a member.

ernity of Anno 1962, there will be a bomb shelter in the basement, elevators up to the second floor, a swimming pool, and a few other conveniences that properly belong in the residence of the head of state government.

IN FACT, the structure may be too modern to fit a lot of old Sacramento, but gradually the old town is being wiped out in favor of new and modern architecture.

It will take some time for the structure to be completed. It is hoped, however, it can be made ready for the Governor at least during the latter part of 1963.

Funds are available for letting contracts for construction, the site is acquired and plans have been submitted. So far the new mansion this far along, it is a virtually certainty Sacramento will have a new home for the Governor within a reasonable time.

96th Anniversary For Charles Baker

Diabetes If Treated Early Can Be Controlled; If Not Then It Can Be Dangerous

By K. H. Sutherland, M.D.
Los Angeles County Health Officer

There are an estimated 1,500,000 known diabetics in the United States and more than another million who have not yet been diagnosed. When adequately treated in its early stages, the condition can usually be brought under control; when neglected, it is something to be feared. Indeed, figures released by the National Office of Vital Statistics reveal diabetes ranked as the eighth cause of death in the nation during 1960.

Diabetes, or diabetes mellitus, to give it the complete medical name, is an insidious disease. It is now medical opinion that "silent changes" go on in the body for varying lengths of time before signs of the disorder become apparent. It also is well established that the diabetic trail may be inherited, and that overweight in a person who has a family history of diabetes often is associated with its development.

The condition appears in all age groups, but is most often found in persons more than 40. It occurs more frequently in women than in men, and is likely to be more severe in children than in older people.

DIABETES OCCURS when the pancreas gland fails to supply the body with enough of the hormone that is called insulin. When this organ is functioning normally it manufactures enough insulin to help the digestive juices convert the starches and sugar (carbohydrates) that are eaten into glucose or food sugar. The glucose is then absorbed into the blood stream to nourish the tissues and supply energy, while the excess is stored in the liver and muscles to be called upon when needed.

A normal amount of insulin must be present in the blood, however, or the tissues cannot make use of the unassimilated sugar, which than builds up in the blood and spills over into the urine. In short, when the body cells can no longer utilize the food sugar, the individual becomes one of the known or unknown diabetics.

Among the symptoms of this disorder are frequent urination, since the kidneys must work overtime to get rid of the excess sugar, and undue thirst and hunger. Fatigue is common because the sugar in the blood is not being converted into energy. Moreover, since the body cannot fully utilize the food that is consumed, loss of weight may occur no matter how much is eaten. Sores or infections that do not heal, dry skin, and frequent attacks of boils also may be signs of diabetes.

ON THE OTHER HAND, an individual may not experience these distress signals at all. In such cases, the disorder is either in an early stage or the glandular disturbance is slight.

Diabetes is easy to diagnose. A simple test will reveal whether or not sugar is being excreted, but this test is not conclusive, as the excess sugar may be caused by some temporary condition. An additional test is then made to determine the sugar content of the blood. If sugar appears in both tests, the individual probably is diabetic.

Diabetes cannot be cured, a

Behind the Scenes in Business

NEW YORK — Retail gasoline companies which have been beset by chronic price wars and resulting profit squeezes for the past few years, have recently uncapped a series of new tactics to lure consumers

Latest sales enticements include introduction of several new grades of gasoline, and revamping of service station "images."

Among the new grade entries are lower quality, lower price blends designed to outprice competition and cut into the growing non-branded gas market. Intermediate grades and special blends have also been developed. Super-premium grade gas has waned in sales since the deemphasis of high compression engines and has been junked by at least two major companies.

Bill Wark Will Show Rescue Work

Bill Wark, an original member of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue team and still active in the famed mountain emergency crew which has saved many lives, will demonstrate rescue skills before the Brotherhood of Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church.

It will be Father and Son Night, at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 22, at the church, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre. Wark will bring one of the rescue dogs and also mountain rescue equipment.

Shell Opens It's Quarters In Pasadena

Joe Shell, veteran of the 1939 and 1940 Rose Bowl games and former USC football captain returned to Pasadena Saturday for the grand opening of his local headquarters in a burst of enthusiasm not unlike that of a New Years Day classic. Colorado Blvd.

The Assembly minority leader personally met and talked with some of the 500 persons present.

DURWOOD HOWES III, volunteer chairman of the Pasadena "Joe Shell for Governor" drive, announced at the luncheon following the parade that there are now 39 volunteer headquarters in the state. Saturday marked the opening of four more, Pasadena, Fullerton, Santa Ana, and Anaheim. He said that the headquarters will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Persons interested in information about Shell may visit the office at 556 E. Colorado Blvd. or call SY 5-5158, SY 5-5159, or MU 1-2119.

Gale-Rocked East Helped By Red Cross

Part of the money contributed by Pasadena Chapter area residents in 1961 to the American National Red Cross is now going to the aid of victims of the savage storms on the Atlantic seaboard, says Mrs. H. Randolph Wood of Sierra Madre, branch chairman. Reports from Red Cross workers in the stricken regions from New England to the Carolinas call the wind-driven floods "worst in history" for many localities.

Red Cross teams are helping evacuate refugees, providing emergency shelter, housing and food, giving first aid, and reuniting families separated when their homes were inundated or swept away by flood waters, Mrs. Woods adds.

ALTHOUGH the stricken regions have been declared disaster areas and therefore will be eligible for Federal aid in restoring roads, utilities, etc., Red Cross is still the main avenue of help for individual victims, Mrs. Woods says. She points out that financing of emergency and continuing aid in case of such national disasters is one of the fund requirements of Red Cross.

However, she says, "Only about one-third of each dollar contributed locally goes to national headquarters for use as called upon elsewhere in the nation or world."

"The remaining two-thirds stays here to be used in the Pasadena Chapter area of which Sierra Madre is a branch to finance such important year-round activities as the blood program, first aid and water safety, home services, and many others, including local disaster relief."

Arcadia P. O. Will Open on March 24

The new Arcadia Post Office will be dedicated on Saturday, March 24, at 41 Wheeler Ave., was completed a few weeks ago, and is part of the Post Office Department's unique commercial leasing plan, the postmaster explained. Under this program investment financing is used to obtain needed facilities, which remain under private ownership, pay local taxes to the community, and are leased to the Federal government.

IN ADDITION to Assistant Postmaster Gen. Bishop, who will be the highest ranking postal official to have visited Arcadia in recent years, state, county and city officials have been invited to participate in the dedication ceremonies. Mayor Jesse Balser of Arcadia will offer an official welcome on behalf of the city.

The general public also is invited to the dedication, following which there will be open house and conducted tours of the new facility. The Arcadia Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the dedication.

Friends' Art Show

have imposed on the festivities.

JEROME NORDLAND, director of the Chouinard Art Institute, chose — perhaps with some difficulty — six works from the exhibit which he considered tops in excellence.

His selections were: Prints; Down Toward In, by W. Waldren; Cabal, by Leonard Edmondson, and Six Characters in Search of an Author, by John Coleman.

From the drawings he chose: Dressing, Back Stage, by Irene Koch; Locale, by John Kwok and Black Armor, by Saul Bernstein.

From these, the public is invited to indicate by vote its choice of one from each classification. A purchase prize of $100 will then be awarded to each of the two receiving the largest number of votes. March 23 has been set as deadline for voting and announcement of the winners will be made soon thereafter.

EXTENDING hospitality

for the occasion were Grant Raddon, president of the Friends of the Library; Ramon Lopez, of the Lopez Gallery; Jo Tracy and Marge Hartman of the Xanadu Gallery, and the exhibit committee of which Lee J. Wexler is chairman.

Charlotte Bush and Mary Tumulty served as hostesses in charge of refreshments. The exhibit will extend through March 30. Gallery hours are, Monday-Saturday, 10:30-5, Friday evening, 7-10.

Three 'Shamrocks'

ordered the news of the triple birth was discovered for the first time.

At home, the big sisters, Karen Ann, 12, and Sharon Marie, 8, are excited about being babysitters. However, the young master of the household, Ludvig III (more familiarly known as "Butch") is nonplussed; he still can't figure out why there couldn't have been at least one boy.

ALL THREE children

attended Holy Name of Mary Catholic School in La Verne-San Dimas where they are being joined in daily prayer by their faculty and fellow students for the babies' successful progress.

Grandfather Ludwig Sr. of the home address is joining them as are the other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Messina and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carr.

In addition to praying for the babies, the Solberg's are still trying to figure out "how" they'll manage, for to date they have only one 13-year old crib and clothing for one baby—and no hospital insurance.

Council Meeting

Sunnyside, was interjected by City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington when he pointed out that the City of Pasadena appears more willing now to cooperate with Sierra Madre on this serious problem.

Council instructed the city administrator to write Murphy as well as to continue negotiations with Pasadena and the County Flood Control District.

This followed Bevington's report that the Flood Control District will reseed the entire hillside area at its own cost. It had been reseeded after last October's extensive forest fire but recent rains have washed much of this away.

BEVINGTON and Councilman Ralph R. Rule had conferred with Michillinda and Gatewood Lane residents concerning the situation there.

The Sunnyside flood area presents another picture, not so bright. The Flood Control District after conferring with Bevington and Paul Bauman, special city engineering assistant, advised that nothing further can be done to alleviate this situation.

Kirsch and Robert H. Fletcher of 314 N. Sunnyside and others engaged in a word battle over this, especially with Mayor W. Webster Vannier which at times heated appreciably.

The mayor had suggested that the North Sunnyside group hire its own engineer to help formulate a relief plan. Fletcher asserted this would be too costly and urged that the city defray such expense.

Mayor Vannier's reply was a vigorous, emphatic "No!" He added that there is no legal provision by which the city can assist such groups financially in such matters.

MAYOR VANNIER announced that he was still seeking formation of a committee to consider the report on senior citizens submitted at the previous meeting by the Coordinating Council. This report represents three years' work, and suggests a committee be named to help implement its provisions.

Mrs. Claude H. (Elena) Brown, chairman of the group's Senior Citizens Study Committee, and Mrs. George W. Lindsay, Coordinating Council president, again spoke in behalf of the report.

The disbursements report included the payment of $24,500 for the three acres in Bailey Canyon from Paul N. Carter which property is being converted into a natural recreation park.

Phone Company

$1,719,000, Eckrote said. Commenting on the projected expenditures for 1962, Eckrote said that "it will be a busy period for us; in fact, we are right now beginning to plan for 1963, as reliable surveys indicate our responsibilities will continue in this same vein into the foreseeable future."

More of Shippey

who used to dream of going to a certain college where he could do or die for dear old Alma Mater now dreams of getting a $50,000 bonus from some professional team and meantime years to do or die for old Highest Bidder.

But there's still truth in the lines, "I'll fare the land, to hastening ill a prey, where wealth accumulates and men decay."

Success in any honorable line is achievement deserving reward, but success for profit only degenerates and can lead to immorality, depravity, gangsterism and even misuse of funds by public officials and officers of great financial organizations.

Besides, the gains are self-defeating. If industry demands too much foreign competitors will crowd in; if labor demands too much millions of still capable retired persons could take many of its jobs away at half price.

Teen' Learn

"CITY ADMINISTRATOR"

Morgan and "Public Works Administrator" Glaser attended a meeting of the East San Gabriel Valley Planning Council and learned what improvements other cities are making. Mr. Glaser also saw the flood control dams and learned about the water situation in Sierra Madre.

"Planning Secretary" Deputy City Clerk" Brown took dictation from the City Administrator, learned how the city's water is obtained, and learned about zoning. "Building Inspector" de la Torre saw how drain pipes and sewers were put in, and visited the water plant.

SALLYE DONOVAN, Nan Mulleavy, Alexandria Rook, Karen Fetters and Claudia Vocelka were teachers-for-a-day at St. Rita's School. Miss Mulleavy summarized her day, saying that "it was so nice to teach because I knew most of the answers."

Jerri Rowe, Chris Fisher, Abbe Keith, Brooks Rose, and Donna Komorowski visited the Sierra Madre Hospital, where they were taken on a tour, were shown x-rays and the new-born babies, and had their blood types taken in the laboratory.

Steve Luder and Roger Keith visited the Deputy District Attorney's office in Pasadena and sat in on several trials and preliminary hearings.

"THE CITY COUNCIL" made several recommendations on various items discussed. Among these were (1) to enlarge the Youth Hut; (2) to have a good picnic area near the community swimming pool; (3) to have a thorough study made of the need for and construction of new buildings to house the Police and Fire Departments; (4) to install rubber-capped heads on the sprinklers in the parks.

Alan Hartley, Erich Wittig, Bob Foster, and Terry Mankin also participated in Youth Day.

Everyone agreed that Youth Day was most interesting and worthwhile, and that it should be continued. They extended their thanks to the businessmen, city government, Youth Day Planning Committee, and everyone who helped or took part in Youth Day.

Louk Honored
through City Administrator Larry Bevington of a beautifully engraved plaque on which was inscribed: "An appreciation for his community service as postmaster."

ter, mayor, president of Kiwanis, city councilman and citizen, this plaque is presented to Charles E. Louk this 13th day of March, 1962, with appreciative esteem." The Kiwanis emblem, in color was embossed at the top of the plaque.

An appropriately worded citation was sent by Kiwanis International headquarters in Chicago and was presented to Louk by former Club President Henry Nelson.

Final event was a "tour of inspection" of the Post Office by the club. The place had been beautifully trimmed with flags and flowers by the Post Office staff during the "boss' absence at the Kiwanis meeting. All of the events had been developed as a complete surprise to the postmaster-president.

S. M. Rescue Team
inched their way down the snow covered precipice 1,000 feet but could not reach the bottom until additional rope was tied on.

It was Donald Colbert who first noticed the boy's body lying in the stream, at 1:15 a.m.

Disappointment swept the mountain men. He was beyond their help. The youth's body was placed in a litter, carried to Chantry Flats and later taken to Forest Lawn

"He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God. And he shall be as the light of the morning...; as the tender grass springing out of the earth by clear shining after rain." — Last Words of King David. Old Testament.

"The flames kindled on the 9th of July 1776, have spread over to much of the globe to be extinguished by the feeble engines of despotism; on the contrary, they will consume these engines and all who work them."—Jefferson's "Testament of Freedom."

A 'Useful Manufacture'

An industry properly manned and manufacturing products which are a benefit to humanity is a boon to a community, and when that boon causes it to boom so as to increase its personnel and material stature it becomes an even more vital community asset.

This is true of Sierra Engineering, the city's largest industry, which with its nearly completed setup, will double its personnel to 400 employees, mostly skilled workmen, and which last week announced formation of its Sierra-Electronics Division.

That the products the new division will study and develop include a dynamic microphone, miniature transceivers, and solar heating devices, reflects the company's interest in apparatus adding to the convenience of peoples and manufacture.

THAT IT is in the prototype stage of a medical instrument that will program the human heart cavity by detecting and recording temperatures, pulse and blood pressures with extreme accuracy, is a continuation of Sierra's efforts in medio-physical progress and exploration.

This company is a "useful manufacture," and Harry L. Daulton and his associates are to be congratulated on heaving closely to the line in these humanitarian aspects as well as in the firm's developments in the aerospace fields.

Mr. Nixon's Candidacy

This newspaper will support Richard M. Nixon if he receives the Republican nomination for Governor of California at the June Primary election.

But we do not believe that he is sufficiently well fitted to hold down the highest post in the California electorate.

And, as we said before, we do not believe that he can defeat Governor Edmund G. Brown, bumbling chief executive that he has been.

Likewise, we will support Joseph Shell for Governor if he is nominated, and we do believe that Shell is better fitted for the work, duties, perceptions and responsibilities of the Governorship than is Nixon.

SHELL'S YEARS in the Assembly, much of it as leader of the Republican minority, has made him acquainted first-hand with the state's problems and needs. From faraway Washington, D. C. Nixon has been largely sealed off to cognizance of the state's problems, many becoming more vital each day under the fumbling, extravagant Brown regime.

Nixon has the backing of the Republican organization, but under its present inept leadership, we doubt whether this will prove beneficial.

He faces a Democratic Party which despite the decrepitude of the Brown Administration, is more determined than ever to remain in power. It is well-heeled and well-organized.

The Democrats now have the opportunity to shelve Dick Nixon once and for all politically from both state and national scenes. Concretely organized and directed, the Democratic Party will leave no stone unturned to effect Nixon's defeat, if he is nominated. In fact, it will utilize every effort to see him defeated in the June primary election.

NIXON DESPITE the fact that he squeaked through to a narrow victory in the last Presidential election, is not a popular figure among the voters of California.

The blunt truth is that many voters do not trust him politically.

They take with a grain of salt his statement that if elected he will fill out his four-year gubernatorial term and not be a Presidential candidate come 1963-64. Many of them believe that if drafted for another run by the Republican Party he would leave the Governor's chair in Sacramento for the Presidential hustings.

Strangely enough, Nixon lacks color — there is a detached, almost mathematical coldness to him personally that does not warm up the voters.

HE HAS PLENTY of enemies — he was too long the typical "hatchet man" in politics not to have created plenty of enmity for himself. People also recall the Murray Chotiner episodes.

The Republicans would have been better off had former Governor Goodwin J. Knight remained in the race. He could have defeated Brown.

This newspaper will support Nixon if he is nominated, purely on the premise that most any candidate is better than the incapable Brown. But we wish Nixon had remained out of the race for Governor. We believe that in entering it he was badly advised and made one of his rare but vital political mistakes.

Even though he is a ruthless leader politically, we can see no melding of the Republican forces in California into the necessary victorious whole.

He will not unify the Republican Party in this state; he has already unified the Democrats.

The Right to Hear

Once again our city councilmen are being inaudible to those gathered in Council Chambers to hear what they have to say and watch what they do.

Months ago, the city purchased amplifiers so that spectators might better hear what the councilmen they elected were saying.

It worked all right, all around — for a spell. Now, however, some of the solons have lapsed into olden ways

News From Sacramento ...

Draw Poker One Item Before Legislature

By Henry MacArthur
(Capitol News Service—
Special to the Sierra Madre News)

SACRAMENTO — With more than 40 items scheduled for consideration at the special session of the State Legislature which is being held concurrently with the budget session reconvening here yesterday, Governor Edmund G. Brown apparently has asked for a real controversial special session.

He has included some items which have been controversial for many years and which some think might well have been left to another special session, among them, regulation of draw poker.

Also, the Governor is asking for approval of four bond issues to be placed on the June and November ballot. These total $820 million more indebtedness for the state. This of course, will be in addition to the $2.9 million the Governor has submitted to the budget session of the Legislature to operate the state government for the 1962-63 fiscal year.

THE GOVERNOR wants the voters to ballot on $100 million to acquire land for recreational purposes and $250 million for veterans housing loans at the November election, and $270 million for state construction, and $200 million for school construction at the June primary.

Psychologically, of course, if the four proposals are divided between two separate elections, the sum total will not look as big to the voters at either election, and consequently, the bonds will have a better chance to pass and run the state into deeper debt.

One of the hotter issues the Governor has included in his call is extension of the California Defense Production Act. This permits women to work in excess of 40 hours a week in defense industries during emergencies. The 1961 Legislature neglected to make this extension which has been effected every session since the war.

BUT PERHAPS the most controversial issue of all is the proposal to reapportion the State Senate which the Governor said he favors heartily. This would increase the size of the State Senate, depending on population.

Another controversial issue will be a referendum on the June ballot instead of the November ballot concerning daylight saving in California. The referendum would extend daylight savings time in California for an additional month.

Also, Governor Brown hopes to settle the issue of draw poker in California at the special session. This issue has been before the Legislature many years, and so far, the anti-poker people have been unable to eliminate the section of the law which makes playing of draw poker legal and all other gambling games illegal.

At present, poker parlors in many communities may be banned by city or county ordinance. The Governor has had considerable pressure to consider poker at the special session.

Other proposals may turn up some controversy. On the whole, the special session agenda is not much different from similar agendas in the past, albeit some of the items might have been left for consideration of the 1963 Legislature.

The Governor said he had some 200 requests for separate items on the special call, and had narrowed them down to 41. He emphasized that the budget bill is the most important item before the session.

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

37 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 13, 1925 — A campaign for funds with which to build a new Congregational Church will be started at once, according to instructions given the Board of Trustees at a meeting of the membership Sunday morning. Plans submitted by the church building committee call for a structure to cost about $50,000. E. E. Bacon heads the committee.

Mrs. Fanny M. Loveless will open a millinery store at 40 N. Baldwin on Monday, March 16, to be known as the Pollyanna Hat Shop.

The Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department tonight will stage a practice drill with a run to Marlborough Terrace. This will be one of the most difficult runs which has yet been tried and an attempt will be made to achieve a record. Mrs. C. L. Hoover and Mrs. Gruitt will have charge of the refreshments.

Board election, and some of our members became your subscribers.

It was gratifying to find in your issue of Feb. 22, the excerpts from Darrell La Lone's prize-winning essay on "What the Constitution of the United States Means to Me," but it was disappointing to the dedicated women of the Pasadena Unit of Pro-America, who raise the money, read the essays (242 entries this year) and award the prizes, to have your headline attribute the award to P.H.S.

The schools set the rules, and permit the students in the 11th grade History and government classes to participate.

Identification is removed from all manuscripts, and from there the Awards Committee of Pro-America takes over; each essay is read by at least four women before any eliminations are made; then we assemble at an all-day session where the 30 (15 in each H.S.) top-ranking essays are read aloud, and judged.

Four prizes are awarded in each school. $100 first, $25 second, $10 third, and honorable mention, a Scroll, is fourth.

PRO-AMERICA is a national, independent organization of women who are interested in the field of politics, and political education. Pro-America is pledged to preserve both the letter and spirit of the American form of government as set forth in the Constitution of the United States.

Our annual "Evelyn Brooks Gifford Memorial Awards for Essays on 'What the Constitution of the U. S. Means to Me'" are held between Lincoln's and Washington's birthday anniversaries to honor one of our devoted charter members, and to mark our organization's "Founders' Day."

This the Pasadena unit does in conjunction with its study section on "The U. S. Constitution in the News."

We were very pleased with Darrell's essay, and delighted to see the recognition you gave him. Wish the other contestants might have had similar notice in their local press.

Mrs. Walter Broadway, Pasadena Unit, Pro America.

Dear Editor:
As we read in last Friday's Pasadena Star News of the proposed "Largest land deal in Sierra Madre," the thought occurred to us that we had not read of this in our hometown Sierra Madre News.

So, we are asking that space be given in your paper on Thursday, March 15 to publicize this proposed zone change, the Mansair, Neutzel properties in the northeast sector of the city.

Even this late publicity may enable some of the many property owners to attend the planners meeting on that same evening — March 15 and have an opportunity to state their objections.

When the zoning R1 with a minimum of 15,000 square feet was decided upon for this northeast sector it was so planned for many good, constructive and protective reasons for the city as a whole.

As we all know such disasters as fire, flood and landslides reflect adversely upon the entire community — this is a strategic location and certainly not suited to multiple dwellings.

Twelve unit apartments, with a plan for one multiple unit to an acre could mean 490 units. This would ruin the only remaining rural residence area in Sierra Madre.

January snow and unusually cold weather have delayed the vine's opening, and opening date of the annual Wistaria Fete and Flower Festival has now been set for March 31, Lorne Pratt, Wistaria Fete director, announced this week. This is the latest opening in the history of the 97-year-old vine.

7 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 17, 1955 — Honoring Sierra Madre and its annual Wistaria Festival which opened today, the County Board of Supervisors today adopted a resolution proclaiming the week of March 27-April 1 to be Wistaria Week.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Do any of you know what it is like to sit in a house with a wall of mud over-looking it, and not know from one day 'til the next when that wall and mud will be in your house, or over your property, damaging everything in its path?

Our home which has been here for more than 25 years, didn't have this problem until a neighbor above us filled in a gully which has been a natural runoff from the hills as long as any of the old-timers can remember.

An 11 foot wall as erected, and I use the term lightly, 7 feet from my back door to hold this fill. And when I say fill, I mean everything including the kitchen sink, for over four years has been put in it.

The junk is to the top of the wall. It was constructed with a pipe at the bottom to carry off the water, but due to poor engineering, the pipe doesn't work. The water comes over the top into my house. The wall is the same type of engineering. It has eroded at the base and with a little pressure it might go. Being as high as the house and as close it alone poses a danger.

WE HAVE lived in this house for 12 years and until this project was started had no trouble. We have had more rain other years.

This particular case has nothing to do with the fire.

The same thing happened to us three years ago. At that time I asked the city to help, and was told by Mr. Bevington, it was our problem to take the water off the wall. This is an impossibility as he knows. We own no property on the damaging side. It again belongs to the same neighbor.

Before work was started, an engineer and Mr. Bevington went over the plans and the permit was granted. Feb. 14, Mr. Bevington, on our request, saw the project and the damage. In his words it was not "adequate." He also said to his knowledge it had never been inspected. Why?

He also said he hadn't been up here for years. Why when we asked three years ago wasn't it inspected. When asked what we could do he said, "The city doesn't like to tell people what they can and can not do with their own property."

What good is a Planning Committee or a city engineer, for that matter, if they have no authority?

He stated, this particular person was hard to deal with and the city did not have too much authority where he was concerned. Why should personalities be involved where someone's safety is concerned?

MR. BEVINGTON also made the remark, "A city is not as strong as some people think." You are so-right Mr. B. A city is only as strong as the men in government.

The ordinance 683 is fine, but it will only be as good as the men or man who enforce it. We have the same engineer now as before the ordinance. He can still permit this to happen to someone else, and he says he is powerless to help us now.

I asked the Council what good the law would do me now. The answer was: none. Why is it ever too late to inspect a mistake and rectify it?

Also on Feb. 14 I asked how the city could allow more soft dirt to be shoveled down our way in the same area. Another heavy rain and it will be in my house again. Mr. Bevington said, the people in question had said they would haul it away. He saw what was happening on the spot, but said he couldn't do anything about it without consulting the city attorney. Again: Why?

You will ask, "Why didn't you do something about this three years ago?" We tried and got nowhere. The same old run-around. The mayor told me at the last Council meeting my only recourse was to sue my neighbor. That takes money, but even if I do what will happen; if a city can't enforce good planning and laws, where will a private citizen with no influence ever get?

I have untold damage, some of which can never be replaced. Do I have to sit here the rest of my life in danger because of a city boob-boob?

Dear Editor:
Your fellow-townsmen, Mr. Curtis, brought your excellent paper to our attention last year during the School — they are not using the amplifiers properly, or not at all.

COUNCILMAN SORENSON can be heard; so can Councilman Lisle. But these nights it is almost impossible to distinguish what Mayor Vannier, and Councilmen Abernethy and Rule are saying.

Speak right up gentlemen! Use those amplifiers — your public has a right to know.

Bethany Notes

This coming Sunday, the congregation at Bethany Church of Sierra Madre will hear their pastor, Dr. Robert W. Schaper, deliver the second of a series of sermons on "The Events of Tuesday of Passion Week," as a preparation for the Easter season.

Pastor Schaper also continues his series on "The Bird's Eye View of the Bible" during the 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening service. His specific subject this Lord's Day will be "The Period of Conquest."

ON WEDNESDAY evening, March 21, Ken Strohman of World Vision and one of the founders of the Mexican Fellowship, Inc., will show slides and speak about the work of the mission in Chapingo, Mexico. Many of the college age and young adult people have been interested in this work and have made trips down to that area of Mexico.

During the Easter vacation the high school and college young people will travel to Chapingo for a work day and observation. The trip will be to acquaint all young people with the conditions in which these people are living and give them an opportunity to minister to these impoverished families.

THE VOYAGER Sunday School class will enjoy a skating party at the Pasadena Presbyterian Church this Friday at 7 p.m. President of the class is Dr. Sky Aijian of Arcadia and the class teacher is Will Weigel, also of Arcadia. The class is organized for adults who are between 30 and 40 years old.

THE JUNIOR and senior high young people of Bethany Church returned from Forest House Christian Conference Center Sunday afternoon after a weekend of fun and worship at the snow-covered mountain. Seventy-one registered for the two-day conference where Don Bushfield of California Baptist Theological Seminary spoke four times.

ANOTHER WORK day will take place this Saturday, March 17, as the congregation attempts to complete the final details on the new building. In preparation for the building dedication some time in April. Paving of the parking lot soon will be completed as well as the painting of all metal trim and installation of classroom furniture.

Sunday School scholars at Bethany are purchasing new chairs for the classrooms by bringing trading stamp books. The first shipment of 60 chairs arrived last week.

Give a man the right kind of religion and his wife won't have to carry the load.

'Need to Fill Empty Souls' Hansen Topic

"It is not enough to banish evil ways and leave a man's soul clean but empty," commented Rev. Ray E. Hansen in announcing his sermon topic, "Dispossessing the Demons," for 10:10 a.m. Sunday at Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, Sierra Madre. "The empty soul is the soul in peril, and you've got to fill a man with something good," he added.

How Christ can do both—eliminate the bad desires and fill a person with good thoughts—will be brought out in the sermon, second in the Lenten Sunday series on "The Miracles of Christ."

THE CONGREGATION, which plans to build this year on its three-acre site at the northwest intersection of Foothill Blvd. and Santa Anita Ave., in Arcadia, now worships at 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., in Sierra Madre. Sunday School classes for all ages at 9 a.m.

The pastor's class on Christian beliefs is offered in an identical series, one group meeting at 9 a.m. Sundays, and the other at 8:30 p.m. Wednesdays, following midweek Lenten service.

At next Wednesday's midweek worship at 7:30 p.m., March 21, the meditation will be "Loving Your Neighbor," with the choir, directed by Charles E. Markham, offering "All Glory, Laud and Honor."

Ascension News

THE ASCENSION Parish Day School had the pleasure and rare treat of hearing a lecture by Bennett W. James, public relations director of the Radioplane Division of Northrop Corp.

James showed a movie of the launching and recovery of the capsule in which Astronaut Alan Shepherd made the U.S.A.'s first space shot, as well as showing the children a parachute used in space flight.

James represents the company which is responsible for the design and manufacture of the recovery system for the Mercury manned space program. On each of the three manned American space shots these systems have resulted in the safe and soft landing of the capsule.

An ex-pilot of World War II and Korea, he became associated with the three astronauts and has had the pleasure of Astronaut Shepherd as a guest at his residence in Hollywood.

Poverty" is the topic of Dr. Ethel Barnhart's sermon Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service. ## Cemetery Association Will Conduct Fund Campaign

Survey of the Sierra Madre Cemetery to develop 300 additional grave sites and accurately determine the cemetery's driveway and outer boundaries was authorized by the Board of Directors at a special meeting last Thursday. The project was awarded to the Bond Engineering Company of Covina.

With the survey completed, adequate fencing will be installed along the unfenced boundaries and the areas surveyed for grave sites will be available for sale.

Rather than borrow money to initiate the work, the Cemetery Association's directors seek contributions to carry on the preparatory work which must necessarily be done before grave sites can be offered for sale.

Seventy-five per cent of the funds received will be placed in a Perpetual Care Fund and 25 per cent retained for capital investment to implement the program.

The Sierra Madre Cemetery Association is a non-profit organization and all funds received will be applied to the improvement program. The current fund drive will place the association on a self-perpetuating basis and will begin transformation of the cemetery into a "Haven of Rest" of which Sierra Madre may be proud.

All checks should be mailed to Mr. H. Clay Reavis, treasurer, 13 Kersting Court.
